

Webinar: "Practice and Impacts of Chinese Emission Trading Scheme"
3 August 2016; 9am- 10am US CDT

Biography

Dr. Dayuan Li is associate professor of management and assistant dean at Central South University's Business School in China. He is also vice director of the Collaborative Innovation Research Center for Resource-conserving and Environment-friendly Society.

He is the author of two books, and has published around 30 refereed journal articles, including in the Journal of Business Ethics, Journal of Business Research and Management Decision. Dr. Li is the principal investigator of a National Science Foundation of China project on environmental regulation and corporate response, and leads several provincial and corporate research programs. His key research topics include carbon emissions trading scheme, environmental regulation, corporate environmental strategy and corporate social responsibility.

